THERE IS ABSOLUTELY nothing like the killing pace that is part of the Christmas season. That is probably fortunate. We doubt very much, if most of us could stand up under more than one of those mad whirls in a year.

It is a joyous season, no matter what the state of economy is.

And it still remains a religious event to a great degree, no matter how highly commercialized "the season" has become.

We have noticed that there will always be those around who, at the first of December or thereabouts, will observe that they felt "the season" was much more quiet than in previous years.

Others will maintain that they had decided to cut down on their activities and were planning to mark the Yule season in a much more austere manner than ever before.

Their intentions might have been of the very best.

But we have also observed that those same people were generally just slow starters.

They just ran that much harder during the last few days before Christmas.

Conceding that unemployment and other factors affecting the economy may have had a definite impact on the season this year and that there probably will be more households than usual in the area that will be hard-pressed to see the joyous side of the Yule picture, the fact remains that any let-up in the hectic activities has been hardly visible.

The same traffic jams seem to have existed as always in the stores, on the streets and at the post office.

With all its bustle and hustle, it is still a great season.

As weary as we all get, most of us manage somehow to recover enough to enjoy Christmas to the fullest.

SO FROM ALL OF US here at The Press to all of you, go our heartfelt wishes for a Joyous Christmas.

And we echo that traditional message of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" that has been around for almost 2000 years.

And it can't be improved upon in 1970.

AT A RECENT CITY Council meeting, awarding of bids for the public address system for the new city hall was continued until a subsequent meeting.

There were some points about the system that the councilmen felt should be researched before the award was made.

Police Chief John Morgan headed the city staff committee that had studied the needs for a proposed system, and recognizing that it was a highly technical field, with no one on the city staff rated as a pro, a consultant had been employed by the city to draw up specifications and to supervise the installation, etc.

Three bids were received for the job and the low bid almost $1700 below the second and $2000 less than the other.

Because of that differential, Chief Morgan had referred the bids to the consultant to check out whether the city's specifications had been met.

John candidly admitted that he didn't know anything about the technical aspects of the system, so he asked the consultant to give a written report.

The councilmen agreed that was a good idea.

AFTER READING THE consultant's report they decided they needed time to figure out what the consultant had said.

Councilmen Ed Rogers was especially concerned over what was meant by the sen-

Council to act Monday on third screen permit

At the last regular City Council meeting of the year next Monday, Dec. 28, action is scheduled on the long-continued appeal from a Planning Commission denial of a use permit for the proposed third screen of the Winchester Drive-in Theater.

Council action on the use permit was deferred from June until after the referendum election on Dec. 8 was held on the rezoning of the six-acre parcel where the third screen is to go.

At the election, the 4-1 majority of the City Council was upheld by the voters by 1164 to 918.

At next Monday's meeting, the Council is also expected to award bids for the public address system and for carpets and drapes for the new city hall.

The Council will also hold a special study session on Tuesday, Dec. 29, at the Council chambers to formulate procedures for the selection of a city attorney. There have been 11 applications submitted for the position which has been held by Joseph Bonacina since the time the city was incorporated in 1952.

Bonacina has submitted his resignation effective on Dec. 31, but has consented to remain until a new city attorney is named. He has also agreede to assist the councilmen in screening the applicants.

The Council next Monday is also expected to reappoint four members of the Parks and Recreation Commission whose terms expire on Dec. 31.

The four commissioners are: Edith Morley, chairman, and Court Watson, Hank Cary, and Tony Van Laarhoven, who have all indicated their willingness to serve again.

Next Monday's agenda also includes a request from residents on El Caminito to eliminate the parking strip on their street when it is improved on the local improvement district plan with city assistance from street bond funds. There is no parking strip at the present time and the residents have indicated they prefer it that way.

Three zone change actions, all with prior approval of the

FIRST BRANCH FOR CAMPBELL

Hibernia Bank opens in Kirkwood Jan. 4

On Monday, January 4—the first business day of the new year—Hibernia Bank will open its newest office, in Campbell.

The new branch is located in the Kirkwood Plaza Shopping Center, W. Campbell Ave. at San Tomas Aquino Rd. It is the fourth Hibernia branch to be located on the Peninsula, and brings to a total of 14 the number of Hibernia offices in the Bay Area.

Other offices serving Peninsula residents are located in Belmont, San Jose and San Mateo.

Headquartered in San Francisco, Hibernia is now the 13th largest bank in California, and 205th largest in the nation, with total resources of $296 million.

Martin J. O'Dea, president, in commenting on the bank's expansion, notes that "it's appropriate that Hibernia Bank, with more than a century of offering friendly personalized banking services, should now expand into the growing West Valley area. Now with our new Campbell office, we hope to serve a whole new generation of customers with banking conveniences designed for the families of the 70's."

Amid comfortable, tasteful surroundings, the new branch offers a full range of Hibernia services in a convenient, close-to-home location: low cost auto loans, free checking accounts with a minimum balance of $250, drive-up and walk-up windows, safe deposit facilities, special savings accounts.

Fabian D. Collins, assistant vice-president, is the manager of the new Campbell office. Mrs. Barbara G. Lococo is the assistant manager, and Ray Tambellini will supervise loan operations.

A week-long open house begins on Monday morning, Jan. 4, with an official dedication ceremony attended by local civic officials to mark the occasion. There will be refreshments and free gifts for all visitors throughout each day, plus a chance to try for merchandise prizes from the Hibernia Treasure Chest.

A total of 112 prizes, one for every year of Hibernia's history, will be awarded during the week.

GETTING READY—New Campbell office will be the fourth on the Peninsula for The Hibernia Bank. It opens Monday, Jan. 4 -- the first business day of the new year. Checking over plans are Fabian D. Collins, manager for the new office (left) and Martin J. O'Dea, president of Hibernia.

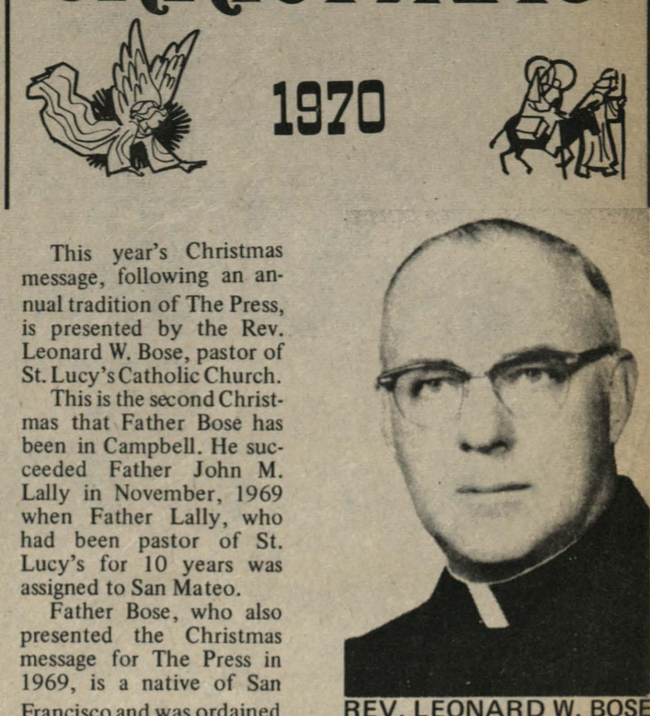
Headquartered in San Francisco, Hibernia is now the 13th largest bank in California, 205th largest in the nation, with total resources of $296 million.

The Campbell office is located in the Kirkwood Plaza Shopping Center, W. Campbell Ave. at San Tomas Aquino Rd. Other Peninsula branches are located in Belmont, San Jose and San Mateo.

STREET MEETING

Proposed plans for downtown traffic circulation, off-street parking and street improvements around the civic center complex will be described at a study session in the Council chambers on Tuesday, Jan. 5.

CHRISTMAS 1970



REV. LEONARD W. BOSE

This year's Christmas message, following an annual tradition of The Press, is presented by the Rev. Leonard W. Bose, pastor of St. Lucy's Catholic Church.

This is the second Christmas that Father Bose has been in Campbell. He succeeded Father John M. Lally in November, 1969 when Father Lally, who had been pastor of St. Lucy's for 10 years was assigned to San Mateo.

Father Bose, who also presented the Christmas message for The Press in 1969, is a native of San Francisco and was ordained in 1943. He came to Campbell from Mountain View where he established St. Athanasius parish and served as its pastor for 10 years.

Father Bose is only the third pastor St. Lucy's has had since it became a full-fledged parish in 1947. The late Father Denis Kennelly, after whom the parish hall was named, was the first pastor and was succeeded by Father Lally.

Christmas message

By Rev. Leonard W. Bose
St. Lucy's Catholic Church

Christmas is more than a season of tinsel, ornaments, pleasant music and the exchange of gifts. It is a time of serious reflection of one of the great focal points of mankind's history — when God's Son became man so that He might share our life with us, that He might teach us the way of salvation, and that He might free us from spiritual and moral ignorance and death.

The world at the time the Savior was born was burdened with many of the same ills which weigh heavy on it today. Pagan Rome, mighty and boastful, claimed almost all the [illegible] western world as its domain. Who could escape its might and power? Force, fear, greed — these things were the order of the day.

What latitude there was, was only political expediency? Was there any wonder that men lost faith and that they despaired of every tasting freedom and happiness, and of knowing the love of one man for another? Today we find a world in which so many again suffer from a loss of faith, not only in the supreme Being but also in man himself; a world in which so many have lost all hope for the morrow; a world that has grown cold in love between men, either as individuals, nations, or races.

The Savior came to men, not with promises of prosperity, or of wealth, or of power. He came with not only the promises but also with the means of bringing true joy and happiness to those who would accept Him. These are things more lasting and precious than material possessions.

In Him man would be able to renew his faith in God and His boundless Concern for all men.

In Him hope would be reborn, a hope that goes beyond the narrow limits of this life.

In Him a new and greater love would burst forth, a love which sees God closer to man, man closer to his God, a love which sees man closer to man.

Noble, beautiful thoughts! But they are of little value unless they be translated into actions. If we sincerely believe in the Savior who was born in Bethlehem, we in our turn must seek to bring that renewed faith to others, as He brings it to us; we must offer to others that hope and confidence which we have received.

Above all—if we accept Him—we must make His Love for men our love. We cannot, we dare not rest until the last man has felt the warm touch of His loving kindness.

Not until every last person has received his God-alloted share of these blessings can our Christmas be a truly happy and blessed Christmas.

The task is not easy, nor is it impossible. The God-man has shown us the way.

We need but follow Him.

tence in the report: "However, the Rauland Equipment does not contain high and low acoustical filters nor compression capabilities."

It sounded impressive, the other councilmen conceded.

But no one present knew what it meant.

So action on the bids was deferred.

All the councilmen were agreed on one point, however.

The present system in the council chambers has been completely unsatisfactory. It has never worked properly.

It probably doesn't have "compression capabilities" or the proper "low acoustical filters".

Whatever that means.

SPORTS CAR RALLIES are not uncommon events in the area, the City Council learned recently from Police Chief John Morgan.

John explained that the participants have always been cooperative with the police by notifying the department in advance when a rally was to be held.

Apparently as many as 70 take part in the rallies in which the drivers follow routes designated by signs and check points and eventually get to their ultimate rallying destination.

A recent rally, however, upset some local residents because of the word "zodiac" which appeared on the route signs posted on light poles. posted on light poles.

Admittedly it would be a bit disconcerting to the residents on a quiet residential street who did not know that a sports car rally was taking place to have about 70 cars during an evening scoot onto their street and shine their lights on a pole. Then the cars would swoop away after the driver had read the sign.

Especially if the word "zodiac" was on the sign.

NOW "ZODIAC" IS A word that has been around for quite a spell.

The dictionary defines it as "an imaginary belt of the heavens within which are the apparent paths of the sun, moon and principal planets. It contains 12 constellations, hence 12 divisions called signs of Zodiac, and generally pictures of animals and human figures are associated with the constellations."

But in the Bay Area, "Zodiac" has taken on a different connotation because of a still at-large killer who calls himself "The Zodiac".

And we don't blame people being concerned when such a sign appears in their neighborhood and cars tear in and out.

Anyway, Leo J. Meyer, of 649 Sobrato Lane, appeared at the council meeting to complain about the "Zodiac" sign and the resulting activities. He explained that the neighborhood had been upset by goings-on.

Unfortunately, to complicate matters even more, through an error in communications, the police went to a wrong address when Meyer called them.

Chief Morgan at the council meeting apologized to Meyer for the inadvertent delay in answering his call. He added that the sports car rallies have never been a problem before.

He admitted that it was a poor choice of words on the signs and he thought the use of Sobrato Lane as a check point was bad.

John's explanation appeared to satisfy Meyer, who also conceded that he had nothing against sports car rallies as a whole.

So the mystery was solved. There is no "Zodiac" on the loose.

But we betcha that the next rally will have different wording on the directional signs.

And they will be more careful as to what streets they travel.

Parent volunteers give Castlemont staff a hand

An experiment in the use of parent volunteers to implement a school program has been declared an unqualified success at Castlemont School in Campbell, according to Dave MacLeod, school principal.

The program of allowing and encouraging parents to help teachers and clerical help at the school was conceived and approved by the school's PTA executive board last spring.

Part of the reason for encouraging the program was the repeated offers by parents to help in any way possible.

Primary reason, of course, is the results that such a program has had on the school's ability to give as much individualized time as possible to each student.

After the program was approved, the school's staff drew up a questionnaire to send to all parents who had children in the school.

The questionnaire asked parents if they would feel they could assist the school. Much of the questionnaire asked about office talents. Some questions were asked about art, music, hobby and sports talents which the parents might be able to share with the teachers and children.

One question even asked mothers if they could babysit for another mother while she gave her help at the school.

Over 150 parents replied that they would like to help.

"Since this was a new program for the staff," says MacLeod, "we felt we should proceed on a limited basis at first."

Currently 11 parents are acting as aides in first, second, third and fourth grades and MacLeod hopes that the program will be further implemented by the use of volunteers in fifth and sixth grade classrooms.

The parents assist in different ways. Some help individual students by answering questions; others listen to students read; re-explain math concepts; help children find errors, assist teachers with bulletin boards, find materials, research teaching aids and library materials. Four mothers regularly assist in the office and teachers workroom doing clerical duties. They maintain supplies, run off materials and assist the secretary and principal with a multitude of school associated tasks.

Currently five mothers help in first grade classrooms. They are Mrs. Dede Norman, Mrs. Dee Clarke, Mrs. Norita Carli, Mrs. JoAnn Smith and Mrs. Bea Oliverio.

Three are assigned to second grades. They are Mrs. Georgette Louden, Mrs. Margaret Gorman and Mrs. Helen Kobashi. JoAnne Nunes helps in the third grade, while Mrs. Shirley Dorsa and Mrs. Darlene Ciraulo are fourth grade aides.

Four other mothers perform office tasks. They are Mrs. Charlene Silva, Mrs. Betty Caines, Mrs. Vera Fond and Mrs. Jesse Brooks.

Most of the parents do not work in the same classroom as their children but come on an average of two mornings a week.

"We feel we are just beginning to tap a tremendous and energetic educational resource," concluded MacLeod.

PARTY GIRL---Melinda Cleveland, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Baker Cleveland of Delgado Court, danced in four performances of West Valley Ballet Association's "Nutcracker" presented at San Jose Civic Auditorium last week. Melinda, a student at Campbell Elementary School, played the part of a party girl in the Tschaikovsky classic.

OFFICE HELP---Mrs. Willien Greco, secretary at Castlemont School shows Mrs. Cecil Silva (right) how to operate a ditto machine. Mrs. Silva's help at the school has freed a teacher for more individual classroom work.

ON THIS DATE ...

DECEMBER 22:

On this date in 1962, a Nike-Zeus antimissile missile fired from Kwajelein Island intercepted an Atlas missile, launched from California on a 4,800 mile flight, in what was believed to be the first instance of an antimissile missile discriminating between its intended target and accompanying decoys.

SHARING THE PROBLEMS--Parents have actively responded to a new program at Castlemont School to help in classrooms. In Mrs. Foss' first grade Mrs. Dede Norman works out a problem with Jill Taylor while Paul Motiekaitis (left) looks on. Paul Gorman (right) works at a puzzle project.

EAGER TYPIST---Mrs. Theodore Fong types material for school use in the faculty room at Castlemont School. Mrs. Fong is one of a number of volunteers to the school who come several mornings a week to aid the school staff.

Debbie Teixeira weds at St. Lucy's

MRS. JOSEPH M. ARICO

"Her mother's gown..." was the costume worn by Susanne Teixeira when she walked down the aisle of a candle-lit St. Lucy's Church to be claimed as the bride of Sgt. Joseph Arico.

The dress had been worn by both the bride's mother and her aunt. Champagne in color, it featured full length tapered sleeves with a long train attached to the gown. The veil exceeded the length of the train and was held in her dark hair by a tiara of pearls.

Long silver streamers were attached to her unusual bouquet of green and white carnations, silver stephanotis and white baby roses.

"Tex" Teixeira accompanied his daughter to the altar, where Father John Brennan waited to read the wedding vows.

Debbie Teixeira preceded her sister down the aisle wearing a floor length green velvet gown and carrying a bouquet to match the bride's.

Bridesmaids, wearing similar outfits, were Lucy Coranato of Mine Hill, New Jersey and Paula Lueder of San Jose.

James Arico of New Jersey, brother of the groom, served as best man. Guests were seated by Alan Jensen of Saratoga and Sgt. Tom Young of Travis AFB.

The bride and groom both graduated from Dover High School in Dover, New Jersey. The bride has been attending West Valley College.

Sgt. Arico is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arico of Dover, and is currently stationed at Travis AFB and attending Solano College at Fairfield.

His mother attended the ceremony wearing a gold dress with gold accessories, while Mrs. Teixeira wore a floor length green crepe trimmed in gold braid. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations trimmed with green ribbons.

The just-weds greeted 50 guests at Zorba's following the ceremony where they cut a three tier pillared wedding cake decorated with bells.

Monterey and Carmel was the destination of Sgt. and Mrs. Arico when they left on their honeymoon trip. For the trip, Susanne donned a purple long sleeved dress, complemented with a black tweed coat and black accessories.

They are making their home in Vacaville where Susanne will join her husband at Solano College.

Campbell JayCettes (wives of JayCees) gave a Christmas party recently for underprivileged children in the area.

Parents and 12 children attended the evening event at Latimer School.

Each child was given two gifts and a stocking filled with candy and a toy by a bearded gentleman wearing a red suit and sporting a very long white beard (and sideburns).

Music, games and carols concluded the two-hour party and no one left happier than the members of the JayCettes.

LUCETTES

Lucettes will meet at St. Lucy's Parish Hall on Monday, Dec. 28, from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Anna Judd, publicity chairman. The Ben Lee Dancers, youngsters age 8 to 14, will entertain.

West Valley Sports

By Dick Sparrer

SCOTT LOOMIS AN ALL-AMERICAN

Scott Loomis, two years an all-league split end for West Valley College's conference champion football squads, was named an All-American by the Junior College Grid Wire in polling last week. Loomis, a product of Saratoga High School, was tabbed an offensive specialist to the 33 man team.

The 5'11", 180 pound sophomore, most valuable player in the Camino Norte Conference, gathered in 37 passes for 707 yards in the Vikes title season while scoring ten touchdowns. The fine pass catcher caught 67 passes for 1416 yards and 18 td's in his two years as a Viking.

Loomis, an all-leaguer at Saratoga High School two years ago, is said to be on his way to Stanford University for the coming season. The All-American played baseball and basketball while a prester.

CAGERS NAB THREE STRAIGHT

Boasting an overall record of 8-2, the West Valley College basketballers prepare to compete in their second tournament of the 1970-71 campaign. The Vikings, after taking first place laurels at the San Jose Fiesta Classic in early December, will journey to Stockton next Monday for the San Joaquin Delta Tournament. Valley holds a three game win streak at present.

The hot-shotting Campbell cagers will open with Sacramento City College Monday in their bid for another tourney title.

Contra Costa, Diablo Valley, San Mateo, San Francisco City, Chaffey, and San Joaquin Delta round out the event that will bring together some of the NorCal's best.

The Delta Tourney will provide the Vikes last non-league opportunities until January 16. Valley opens Camino Norte Conference play Saturday, Jan. 1 at 8 p.m. in Santa Rosa. WVC hosts Canada the following Wednesday at Campbell High School at 8 p.m. in their home CNC inaugural.

West Valley added their third win of their current three game streak last Saturday with a 93-63 drudging of Menlo at Campbell High.

Mike Berch led Valley hoopster scorers with 17 while Jim Smrekar hit 16, Mike McNulty dropped 14, and Joe Gallagher put through 12.

After trailing 6-2 early in the first half, WVC bounced back to grab a 12-6 advantage minutes later and never lost that lead. As the game progressed, the Vikings drove to lead twice by 32 points and ultimately their 30 point winning spread.

A 23 point performance by Gallagher gave the Vikes what they needed to outclass Chabot 86-76 last Thursday. Further support was provided by Butch Romano, 17, Doug Oliver, 16, Smrekar, 14, and Berch, 12.

The lead bounced back and forth for a while during the first stanza, but the Vikes settled down and held a 47-40 half-time edge and never again lost the lead. Chabot led 12-4 early in the game but the Vikes came back to tie 15-15 on a Gallagher hook and then go ahead 17-15 on a Berch steal and lay-in.

Doug Hostetter once again put the Gladiators in front 23-22 and came right back with two free throws to give Chabot a 25-22 lead with 10:32 left in the first half. But four straight Viking buckets gave them an advantage they kept for the rest of the night.

The Glads pulled to within four with only 6:53 left in the contest on a Bill Kellar shot but WVC poured it on to post on 86-76 victory.

Gallagher dumped 29, Oliver 21, and Smrekar 18 as West Valley downed Ohlone 99-82 on the Renegades home boards. A letterman all-leaguer, Gallagher grabbed 18 rebounds in addition to his high point total in the victory.

Vacancies exist for volunteers as firefighters

Due to the recent retirement of several Campbell volunteer firemen, there are a few vacancies in that category, according to Fire Chief George Maxwell.

Applications are being accepted to fill these positions for men between the ages of 28 and 46.

Presently the volunteers meet twice a month in the evening for a regular business meeting and training sessions. These men participate in fire suppression and other activities on a call basis.

Radio alerting units are assigned to the members for calling them in emergencies. The City of Campbell also provides the men with protective clothing and equipment for emergency use.

Anyone interested in becoming involved in this community activity, should contact Richard J. Bosted, training officer, Campbell Fire Department, 485 West Sunnyoaks Ave. Phone 378-8146.

Darting Around
with Tom Carroll

Gaslighter Theater I, while playing to a 6-6 tie with Banbury Clock I, maintained their domination of the South Bay League of the Northern California Darts Assn.

The Clock I team was in second place going into last Wednesday's competition with 57 games won, to the Gaslighter's 64. Lancashire Lad I was in third place nine games behind with 55 wins.

The Lad team picked up two games and moved into second place by virtue of defeating Gaslighter II 9-3 and the tie between the first two teams. Clock I is one game behind Lad I and only seven games out of first place.

GASLIGHTER I TIES CLOCK I

The see-saw battle between Gaslighter I and Clock I got under way with Roy Haslam of the Clock defeating Ted Allen. The Gaslighter's Ben Macredes then defeated Des Maples with the Clock's Rick Miller countering against Kip Fanjoy. The Clock's Don Howard succumbed to the Gaslighter's Jim Macredes while teammate Dave Pena defeated Gaslighter team captain John Glaze.

In the 1001 team game, Ben Macredes sparked the Gaslighters to a win by throwing 2 tons (100's). The first half of the match ended in a 3-3 tie.

The second half saw the Clock's Haslam, Miller and Larry Musial defeat Fanjoy, Allen and Ben Macredes. Des Maples of the Clock suffered his second defeat of the evening at the hands of the Macredes family, this time from son, Jim. Dave Pena of the Clock lost his match to John Glaze.

Ben Macredes threw another ton to lead the Gaslighters to victory in the second team game, finishing the match in a 6-6 tie.

LAD I TRIUMPHS

Lancashire Lad I triumphed over Gaslighter II by winning nine of the twelve games in the match. The Lad's Dave Ingols defeated the Gaslighter's Carl Aydelotte in a 13 dart game that very nearly was an eight dart game. Dave got off with a 61 followed by 180, a perfect three triple 20's leaving him with 60 points on the board after six darts. His next dart was a 20 leaving 40 or the double 20 for the out.

The next two darts just ticked off the wire to the outside of the double 20. On Dave's next time up his dart went a little too far to the left and he hit the double 5 leaving him with 30 or the double 15. He hit this on his thirteenth dart.

Don Rhodes of the Lad shot a 100 away and followed it with a ton only to be defeated by the Gaslighter's Jo Aydelotte. Robb Robbins and Tom Carroll shot the other two Gaslighter wins.

In other league action, Harry Stephens of Lancashire Lad II shot a high score of 125 and teammate Bob Mayer shot a 94 in, but to no avail as they lost to Banbury Clock II (7-5). 7-5 was also the score by which the Black Knight lost to the Scuttlebutt in Mountain View.

HAPPY HOLIDAY

If you're still having trouble finding a Christmas present for that favorite darter of yours, take a run to your nearest Roos/Atkins store. They have a set of dart board cuff links with a dart tie bar in a case with three small darts and a small cork dart board. The cost is only $10.

The next South Bay League dart matches will be Jan. 6. There are no regularly scheduled dart matches during the holidays. The regular weekend dart tournaments (Saturday afternoon at the Banbury Clock, Saturday night at the Lancashire Lad, Sunday afternoon at the Black Knight and Monday night at the Gaslighter Theater) will be held as usual.

Have a very merry Christmas and don't use the Christmas Tree ornaments and light bulbs for dart practice. The glass on the floor gets very messy.

Letters to the Editor

Editor's Note: Sometimes someone comes along with a special message that we really feel should be shared. Floyd Little's prayer is such a message. --S.H.

MY PRAYER

The Holiday Season is upon us, or very near.
As usual, one's hurts and disappointments tend to disappear.
We search the secret places of our hearts, if we dare.
With the Holiday Spirit, one can't resist the temptation, to see what's hidden there.

Now that we have looked into our hearts, with utmost care.
Do we really like, what we have found hidden there.
Have we always been thoughtful, considerate, and fair?
Make that claim, if you will, I would not dare.

Lord, if you treat me, as I've sometimes treated others, I'll go down in despair.
I don't want justice Lord, I need thy mercy, and loving care.
May I care deeply for others, as I've asked you to care.
Lord, cleanse my heart, this is my humble prayer.

Local students raise funds for Pakistan relief

AT THE SCENE--Mr. and Mrs. George Meleen, 234 Redding Rd. received an envelope of pictures taken by their son in East Pakistan shortly after the cyclone and flood which appeared to have nearly leveled many of the houses.

By Rusty Hammer

Don't let anybody ever tell you that high school students are not interested in helping their fellow man!

A case in point is a group of students at Del Mar High School.

Under the direction of Patty Austin, student body president, and the guidance of Don Rogers, government teacher, the students have collected almost $500 for the victims of East Pakistan.

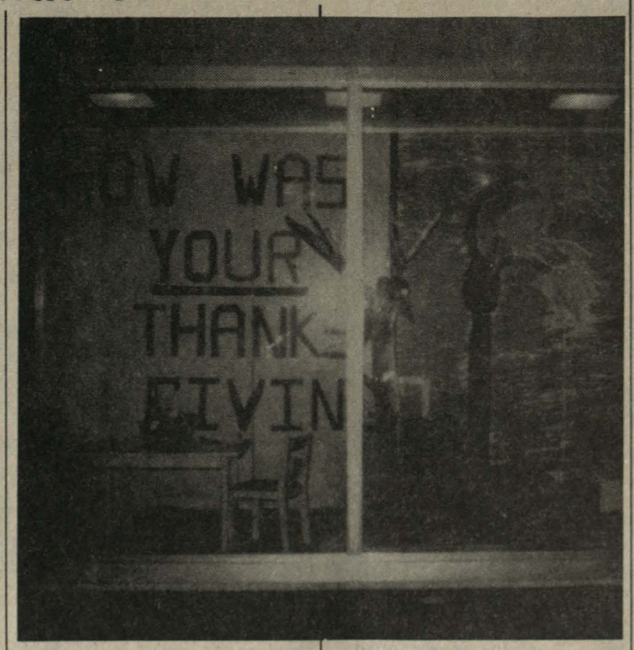
Other officers participating are Joe Zori, vice-president; Denise Quement, secretary, and Alan Schikawa, treasurer.

Working in conjunction with San Jose State College and other high school groups, Del Mar students are raising the money to aid the victims of the disastrous cyclone that swept the country Nov. 17.

Currently the students hope to place canisters in stores and also to collect money door to door. They have collected money at football and basketball games.

Anyone wishing to donate may send their contributions to: East Pakistan Relief Fund, 1224 Del Mar Ave., San Jose, Ca. 95128.

Give a little!



ON DISPLAY---Del Mar High School students made a display in contrasts showing Thanksgiving here as compared to the same day in Pakistan following their devastating flood.

Campbell Baptist Church, 151 Sunnyside, is presenting an original sacred operetta on Wednesday evening, Dec. 23.

"It's a Miracle" was written and directed by Phyllis Hofer of Campbell.

The story is about a little mute boy (Carl Moeller) who has some unusual dreams on Christmas Eve. Featured are Melody Nesseth and David Williamson. A high school choral group directed by Mrs. Maryann Warnock is also part of the operetta, and unusual lighting effects will be used.

The public is welcome to attend the 8 p.m. performance.

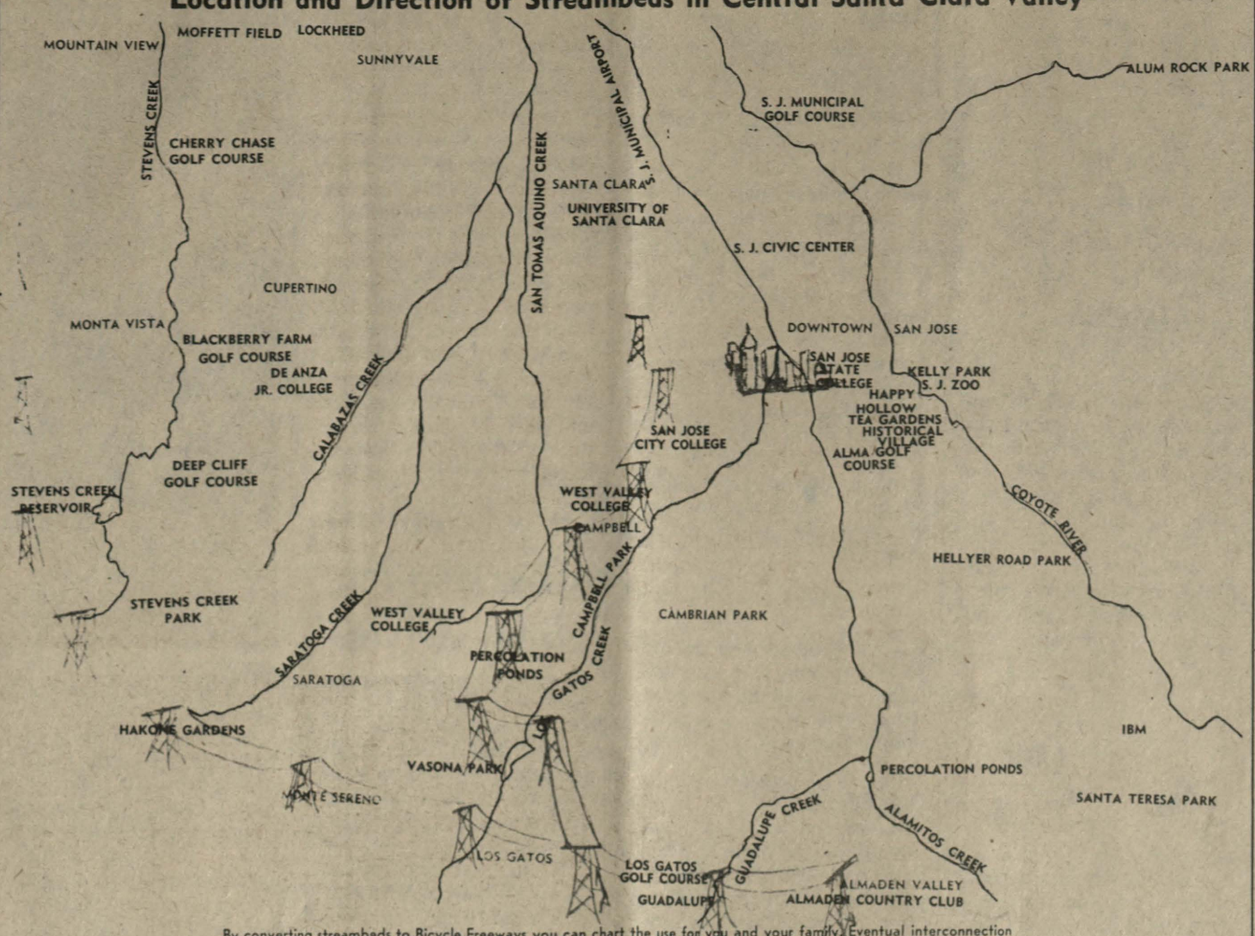
Location and Direction of Streambeds in Central Santa Clara Valley



By converting streambeds to Bicycle Freeways you can chart the use for you and your family. Eventual interconnection with High Power Line Rights of Way and the creation of new bicycle-only paths will complete the system.

County bicycle trails proposed

A county-wide system of bicycle freeways running along stream beds and under power lines has been proposed by Leonard McKay of the Santa Clara County Bicycle Club. McKay's map, shown above, would take advantage of the many fine stream beds in the Valley, and could be constructed at a minimum of cost.

Such bicycle trails could eventually run from Los Gatos to Alviso, Coyote to Agnew, from Stevens Creek Reservoir to Moffett Field. The advantages of using stream beds, according to McKay are as follows:

Safe, no automobile traffic; the bridges that are already in would act as overpasses; cost of paving, lighting and necessary patrolling would be at a minimum; streams are dry 98 percent of the time; connections in areas where streams are not located could be made by using the right-of-way under PG&E power lines and creation of bicycle-only streets.

HIGHWAY PATROL

For safe and happy holidays, start exercising extra care on the streets and highways at noon on Thursday, Dec. 24, Captain R. P. Bliss of the California Highway Patrol advised today.

"Our records show that Dec. 24 is usually a bad day for accidents. Last year, 22 people died in traffic accidents on Christmas Eve, compared to 15 on Dec. 23 and 13 Dec. 25.

Every year many of these traffic accidents happen between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m., in the hours when people are leaving work and going home to start what should be the happiest holiday of the year. For too many, Captain Bliss said, those hours bring tragedy.

He had some advice for drivers:

Don't drive in an intoxicated condition.

Drive defensively; remember that some people on the road have over-imbibed.

Don't try to go too far too fast; allow yourself time to drive lawfully.

Take rest breaks on long trips.

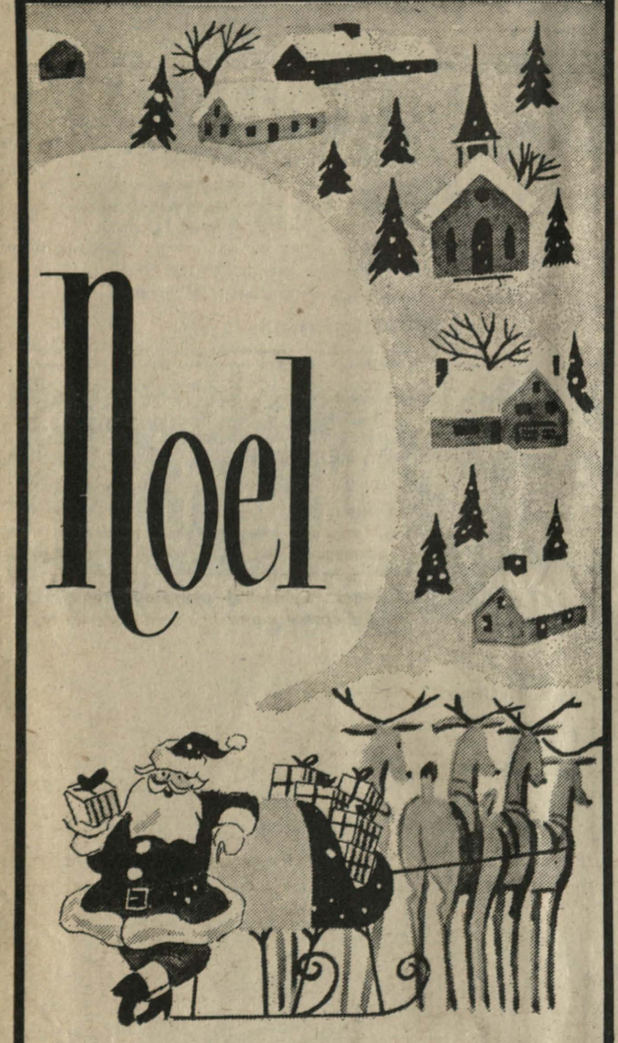
HERE WE ARE---T'was pretty hard to see the face of the bearded fellow who surprised Mrs. Lanaya Dix's class at Coventry School last week, but there was no mistaking who he was. Rumor has it that he is related to Milpitas fireman Terry Stanton who lives on Marianna Way.

WE MADE A TREE---Jeff Larkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Larkin of Campbell Ave., adds a little more decorations to a "wall tree" in his kindergarten classroom at Coventry School. Jeff and his classmates had just had a visit from St. Nick a few minutes before.

HI SANTA---Kindergarten students at Coventry School heard some bells ringing the other day when it was storming outside and suddenly, the lights went off in the classroom, the door flew open and in walked a bearded gent bearing a sack of treats and presents. Here he gives one of the students a candy cane.



A special Christmas wish to you from your friends here.

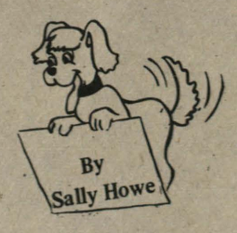
Bringing up fido



Is there a Fido (or a Rover, or a Spot, or a Fifi) on your Christmas shopping list?

If there is, I'd like to tender a few suggestions as to gifts for him.

1. Good health. If you want Fido Around next Christmas, why don't you invest an hour in checking out his shots? See that he's "up-to-date". Have his teeth cleaned, this is an often neglected area.

2. Good care. Why don't you make an appointment with a dog groomer for him if he needs a special kind of trimming? If he can be bathed at home, maybe the kids will make that a Saturday project. Caution: Do not bathe him on the front lawn – it's just too cold.

If you don't feel you want to use the garage or the bathroom, then have him groomed by someone who has facilities for drying him. (Remember, a hair dryer works, too.)

3. A clean bed. Throw out that old smelly rug and invest in a new rug. (For yourself – give him the worn but clean one.) Try to get the bath, a clean rug and the shots all scheduled in proper sequence.

4. Sensible gifts. It's always fun to see what Santa puts in Fido's stocking. Usually, good things to eat are easier – if he has no weight problems. (I know a lady who buys a pound of ground sirloin for her pet on his birthday and at Christmas. I doubt if the dog knows the difference between it and hamburger.) I think he'd enjoy a commercial chew bone, a box of doggie snaps, a package of chips, anything which can be enjoyed for a long period of time.

It may be time to think about a new leash or collar, even a sweater or new bed. I recommend leather collars for name tags, chain collars for training and a sturdy leather leash – not one made of chain – for those daily walks.

Wicker baskets make nice beds for adult dogs, but for a puppy, I find a wire crate is more useful.

Sweaters are as practical as you want them to be. Frankly, if it's so cold that my dog has to wear a sweater, I'M not going out!

Also, if your dog is enjoying his "first" Christmas, the excitement of the holiday season can be upsetting.

If you will be having a lot of guests in your home, you might be wiser to farm him out for the day.

If he's underfoot you may find that he is a nuisance and he could get out the front door. Occasionally, some "expert" will decide they're going to discipline your beloved pet and will end up ruining him forever.

Letters to the Editor

APPRECIATES PRESS

Dear Mr. V,

Our son, Gary Brown, wrote this from Spain. I typed it, knowing of the impossibility of your reading it. He is really appreciative of receiving the Press and keeps well informed.

He has not been home for Christmas in all of the three years he's been in the service so is feeling quite homesick at this time of the year.

I hope you will be able to print his letter to you. it would be quite meaningful for him to receive the paper aboard ship.

Very sincerely,
(Mrs.) Norma J. Brown

P.S. I too defend your right to print anything you want and hope you keep up the good work my son speaks so aptly about. Thanks.

December 5, 1970

Dear Editor:

Living and working on an aircraft carrier while overseas is no easy task. We are away from home many months at a time. I have been in the service a little over three years now and the entire time has been spent on the East coast and various parts of the world. In this three years, I have had my home and birthplace sent to me. This bit of cheer has been The Campbell Press.

You have kept me in touch with the times and growth of the community. The news of the outstanding and "World Famous" Campbell Little League really put pride in me - along with all the great things the youngsters and their parents are doing in the community, as well as the surrounding area. I can honestly say I am proud to come from such an outgoing and involved city.

I plan on getting my master's degree in education and come home to help in the fine work that is being done in our school, after which I hope to attain a PhD and some day be as Mr. Tony Van Laarhoven - a principal in the Campbell Union School District at Hazelwood School.

He has recently been appointed to the Parks and Recreation Commission of the City of Campbell. You couldn't have picked a better man for the job. He has been a great help to me in choosing my future career.

He is also the employer of my mother, Mrs. Norma Brown, secretary at Hazelwood School.

My parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brown of 11230 Chula Vista, San Jose.

I am presently assigned to the USS INDEPENDENCE/ CVA-62 in the Mediterranean Area.

Thank you so much for your past efforts and keep up the good work.

Very sincerely,
Gary A. Brown

YULE TREAT

Dear Editor,

The Paseo de Palomas Mobile Park members, at their annual Christmas party, were treated to some first class entertainment by some members of the Prospect High School music organization.

Under the direction of Mr. Sam Espeseth, vocal and orchestra director, a small ensemble, with about twenty select voices gave a first-class program of Christmas music. A sing-along was also enjoyed by the park members.

Prospect High School is to be highly complimented for having so many talented musicians and such a fine group of young people who would take time out from a busy holiday schedule to entertain a group of mostly senior citizens.

Many park members wonder why we don't see and hear more about these type young high-class citizens. Most certainly, this is one way to bridge the gaps of the so-called establishments.

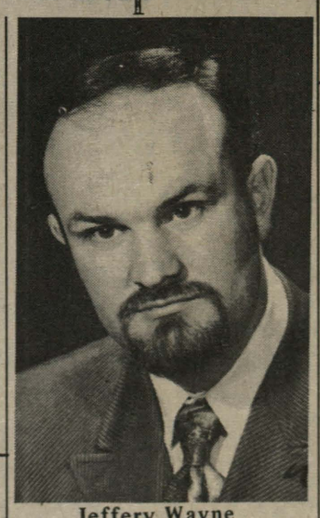
A "Tip of the Hat" to Prospect High School. Because of their fine efforts, we are all more able to say "A Merry Christmas" and "God Bless America."

J. Teie.

Jeffery Wayne will help Children's Musical Theater

The San Jose Children's Musical Theater, sponsored by the Cabrini Community Theater, is currently rehearsing a fund-raising benefit for its summer program and is being honored by the addition of a professional singer for its upcoming "Survey of American Musical Theater" in January.

The guest artist, Jeffery Wayne, will demonstrate the various styles of singing required in the comic opera, operetta, and musical play sections of the



Jeffery Wayne

"Survey". Wayne is from both the West Valley Light Opera and the San Jose Music Theater, where he recently sang the title song in their production of "Mame".

In addition to years of vocal training, he has made tours of the US, Hawaii, and Canada, presenting musical assemblies for high schools, has sung on the concert stage, and hosted his own musical variety show on TV, in addition to his recordings.

Jeffery Wayne is used to aiding young people's theater, as shown last year when he appeared in the Cabrini guest artist production of "HMS Pinafore" in June, and again when it toured to the Palo Alto Veteran's Hospital in August.

"Survey" will cover the development and varying styles of musical comedy and operetta from 1878 to 1969. The program is divided into two parts, with Part I, from 1878 to 1940, presented on Jan. 9 at 8:15 p.m. and on Jan. 10 at 3 p.m. Part II, from 1940 to the present, will be given Jan. 30 at 8:15 p.m. and Jan. 31 at 3 p.m. All performances are at the St. Frances Cabrini Hall on Camden Ave. For reserved tickets, call 371-0232, 371-0491, or 377-9825. Scout, school and theater groups are especially welcome to come and sit together.

Key Club plans coffee stop for holiday drivers

If you're out driving around on Christmas Day night and you're lonely, or you'd just like to rest, enjoy some company and have a cup of coffee, Del Mar High School Key Club has a spot for you to stop.

The high school service club, an affiliate of West San Jose Kiwanis Club, is setting up "Operation Coffee Stop" on the grounds of the former lumber yard on Hamilton Ave. and Highway 17, beginning at 9 p.m.

Free coffee and donuts will be available to anyone who wishes to stop there, say student leaders. In addition, Campbell Police Department is setting up their public relations van on the grounds so that persons who stop can also have an opportunity to view the department's displays, not usually available in the late evenings.

Key Club officers are: Ted Parker, president; John Sherriff, vice-president; Rusty Hammer, secretary; Steve Tedesco, treasurer.

Dennis Fink is chairman of the "coffee stop." Robert Landreth is advisor to the students.

If the coffee stop works out, the students are tentatively planning another for New Year's Day evening.
